General Sporting Notes.

Conover is the Texas league's star pitcher.

While Shaw's batting streak lasts he should be in the game every day.

Ball is enthusiastic the Minneapolis fans by his wonderful work at short field.

Harry Smith, of last year's Warren team is catching a great game for Buffalo in the Eastern league.

Whaley and Wagner have been rather ragged in their work, but they'll round to soon. Both are top-notch infielders.

Briggs didn't last long at Washington. He had a very badly crippled wing. One on first base second was a gift with Grant in the game.

"Ours" are sure to part even on the trip even if they lost to-day's game. By winning to-day the team's record away from home will be better than was hoped by the most sanguine.

Baker will probably pitch in to-day's game. He should be in fine fettle to pitch a winning game. The score by innings will be posted at the Intelligence office just after the game.

The owner of the Jackson club is Leigh Lynch, who piloted the All-American team around the world several years ago under the Spalding banner. Lynch married Anna Berger, the talented musician and cornet player of the once famous Berger family of bull ringers. Sol Smith Russell married Louise Berger—Toledo Blade.
